

NASECA-WI Annual Conference 2025 Call for Presentations

NASECA-WI invites you to submit an abstract for presentation at the 22nd Annual Conference, “Advancements in Stormwater and Erosion Control,” which will take place in Wisconsin Dells, WI, February 4-5, 2025. We encourage submissions of abstracts related to projects and research in the areas of stormwater management and erosion control.

Why should you submit an abstract for a presentation at the NASECA-WI Annual Conference?

- Your peers will appreciate learning about your unique project, solutions to the obstacles you encountered, and overall success of your project.
- Presenting is a great way to boost your resume as both a professional and thought-leader in the industry.
- Showcasing the details of a successful project helps to gain positive exposure for your employer.

Submit your abstract

Please provide the following information on a cover sheet when you submit your abstract by email to peggy.hoffmann@nasecawi.org:

- Author and co-author name (if applicable), affiliation, email address, and daytime phone
- Whether the abstract relates to the stormwater management or erosion control topic
- Presenter biography
- Presentation title
- Presentation abstract (no more than 1500 characters)

Guidelines for presentations

- Presentations will be 15 minutes each with an additional 5 minutes for question and answer.
- All presentations must be non-commercial in nature.*

Abstract Review and Acceptance

Submitted abstracts will be reviewed by NASECA-WI’s Annual Conference Planning Committee. The deadline for submitting abstracts is December 6, 2024. Presenters will be notified of acceptance by December 20, 2024.

*If you would like the opportunity to reach our attendees with information about your product or service, please email kristie.kasbohm@nasecawi.org for information about our Platinum Sponsorship.
